ABOUT PROGRAM

Ethics is one of the most important yet one of the most neglected topics in the world of Islamic finance. Despite the fact, there has been negligible strategic effort or initiative from industry stakeholders since the inception of Islamic finance in providing Islamic finance professionals with comprehensive guidance on the topic of ethics. If such an attitude towards ethics continues any further, we will soon be hearing similar stories of unethical conduct and practices in Islamic finance that were prevalent in the conventional finance industry which brought about and/or exacerbated the global financial crises.

To tackle the matter, NIBAF has partnered with AAOIFI to conduct this first-ever full-day training on ethics for the benefit of the local Islamic finance industry. Professionals have been invited to participate in the workshop who in turn would be encouraged to share the newly gained knowledge and skills with their colleagues.

In this workshop, participants will understand the requirements of the ‘AAOIFI code of ethics for Islamic finance professionals’ specifically from the implementation perspective. The interactive in nature workshop shall include problem-solving activities involving a comprehensive case study/ scenario and several concept checkers.
